

To the work described under cat.nt. 17, a piano part has been added and parts of the work have been rewritten in order to best use the possibilities of the extended ensemble. The piano part is not of a solistic nature, but comparable to the harpsichord part in an 18th-century concerto grosso. In order to avoid confusion with earlier versions, the title of the work has been changed to "Concerto da camera".